

I notice a lot of patterns underneath the buttons-- the quilted patterns.

OK, so you're seeing like-- what seems like a quilt-like pattern under the buttons? What makes it seem quilt-like?

Just the way that it's spread out in different areas and the multiple colors-- looks almost stitched on.

Ah, so even that notion of, like, stitching it on. OK.

I can see multiple shapes, like, there's a triangle. Oh, there's a white triangle right there. There's even a-- something that looks like a target right in the middle of it.

The socks that they're wearing are pretty plain in color compared to the bigger, like, cloak thing. The way that it seems really big and baggy-- it has, like, a hood thing going on there.

The addition of so many buttons-- it looks like all of them are circular except for one I see. There's a star near the top of the-- I guess we could say hooded figure. But other than that, they all look circular.

Uh, most of the buttons are kind of like a light, brown color.
